The senatorial situation becomes somewhat more defined as time goes on. and it seems likely that Hon. J. L. Rawlins, Hon. John T. Caine and Fisher S. Harris will be in the contest to a finish, while Judge Powers, Judge Henderson and David Evans are looked upon as being in the battle already.

There is one fact which may be noted in this campaign for the senatorship, and that it no man is going to be

The tenor of the expressions heard yesterday were unanimous in this, that the Democratic party was going to have the best man, regardless of everything else. It is the intention of the Democrats, so it is said, to elect the presiding officers of both houses without regard for location. What is wanted by all are officers of ability and aptness. The next session of the legislature will be a short one, as compared with the last, and while there will be but one side to all party measures, the senators and members of the lower house all unite in declaring that they have a desire to facilitate business in every way and accomplish fill that can be accomplished within the limit of time allotted by law.

or not. Holbrook says he was defeated by the votes of the women—and the men. That is the only reason he can assign. Candidly, Mr. Holbrook takes his defeat very gracefully, and is not worrying at all over the election of Mr. King, who is a warm personal friend.

Deputy Recorder McKaig sizes up the situation in a very remarkable way.

Deputy Recorder McKaig sizes up the situation in a very remarkable way, considering the fact that he is a Republican. "I believe this county, with the votes of the women, is Democratic at all times, and that Tuesday's election was only a more emphatic declaration than we would have had, had it been an off year. In future, Republicans was have to kok sharp if they get anything in Salt Lake county, and by the same token, the city candidates hereafter will have no walk away."

Inquiry at nearly all the hanks yesterday demonstrates that what gold there is in this city has come out of the hiding place and resumed its place in circulation. Prior to election there was a great deal of currency in the city, doing the work formerly performed by gold. At one bank the cashier informed a reporter for this paper he believed in a very short time we would feel easier as concerns money and that loans would be resumed again as usual.

Frank McGurrin sizes up the financial situation in this way: "The Republican party has gone before the people and won a victory because it has promised better times. In order to improve matters it has said it will reinstate the protective tariff policy and advocate international bimetallism. Now, as McKinley has said, this nation is sick. He is the doctor, or rather, his party is. Protection 1 believe in, and I am not so adverse to silver as a great party is. Protection I believe in, and I am not so adverse to silver as a great many would have the public believe. The situation stands like this: We have a debt of $1,200,000,000, and we have inaugurated a policy of having $190,000,000 in the treasury with which to redeem present obligations. Now, as a matter of fact, there isn't a bank on the face of our man which would be allowed to do business in that way, it would have to have a larger reserve.

The . the face of our man allowed to do business in that way; it would have to have a larger reserve. We will have to have more money. The production of gold is not large enough for our needs, and we can obtain it only by issuing more bonds. The people will not stand another bond issue. Then there is only one alternative, and for our needs, and we can obtain it only by issuing more bonds. The people will not stand another bond issue. Then there is only one alternative, and that is silver. We are pledged to advance silver by an international agreement, and if we cannot get that the administration must do something on its own account. The nation is sick, and the Republican party is the doctor. If it does not find a relief, then the people will change and throw the party out of power."

Joseph Munson came down from Cache yesterday and is pleased with the result in his district. He declares they didn't do a thing to the Clitzens' ticket in Cache, which was nominated because of the desire on the part of the Republicans to defeat the Democracy. Mr. Munson declares the slogan "Mark an X up by the rooster and let it go at that" was a battle cry which aided materially in carrying all parts of the state, coupled with the thorough illustration given in the matter of voting the Australian ballot.

There is only one thing lacking in the senate and house, and that is the presence of George M. Cannon and Critchlow, who should be there to take a dose of their own medicine.

WORKED SALT LAKE ALSO.

OGDEN, WERE HERE,

And Met With Considerable Succes

In the Operation of Their Ingenious Scheme to Possess Themselves of Other People's Money.

It appears that the two young men.

It appears that the two young men, Smith and Wiel, who were arrested in Ogden a few days ago and held for trial upon the charge of obtaining money by false pretenses, piled their avocation with some success in Sait Lake recently.

The plan pursued here was substantially the same as that used in Ogden. Smith cailed with a copy of the United States Commercial Register for 125-58 and solicited a renewal of the advertisement of the firm upon which he called for the next issue of the Register. This in most cases was refused, but contrary to what might be expected the canvasser was quite as well pleased as if the order had been given for a continuance and producing a printed slip, which was an order for the discontinuance of the advertisement, requested the firm to sign it in order, he said, that the publishers of the book would know that the canvasser had done his duty by calling and soliciting a renewal. The signatures were readily given and the agent went away happy.

Then in a few days Wiel, the other fellow, called and presented a slip to the cachier or some member of the firm other than the one who had signed the "discontinuance slip," with a request for payment for the advertisement, the amount being marked on the slip according to the space occupied by the advertisement. The slips thus presented appeared to be an order for the insertion of the advertisement in due form, stating the amounts to be paid and of course bearing the signature of the insertion of the advertisement in due form, stating the amounts to be paid and of course bearing the signature of the firm to whose cashler it was presented.

The scheme is quite a clever one, but if the parties who worked it would turn their ingenuity to some legitimate channel they would keep out of the clutches of the law.
